PROFILE

I'm a designer and creative with a background in fashion, technical design, and illustration. Over the past several years, I've gained hands-on experience across multiple areas of clothing design, including menswear, womenswear, tailoring, couture, and accessories. My work blends both traditional craftsmanship and digital innovation, reflecting a passion for detail, form, and storytelling. Whether working independently or as part of a team, I bring precision, creativity, and adaptability to every project.
